

Northeast Regional Environmental Acoustics Symposium

29 May 2019 at Brown University, Providence RI

Sponsored by the Acoustical Society of America

Keynote Speakers

Holger Klinck, Cornell University:

The Future of Terrestrial Passive Acoustic Monitoring: Challenges and Opportunities

Jesse Barber, Boise State University:

Why Conservation Biology Needs Sensory Ecology

Call for Abstracts and Registration

We are soliciting abstracts in all areas of environmental acoustics, broadly defined, for podium and poster presentations.

Please visit the registration page to submit an abstract and to register. Deadline for abstract submission is May 1, 2019.

<https://mypages.unh.edu/environmentalacoustics/2019-northeast-regional-environmental-acoustics-symposium>

There is no registration fee but you must register. Lunch will be provided to all registered participants.